On a hot morning Jills Elderflower Cordial and doughnuts went down a treat, What an inspiration Jill Barham is to attend after having a skin graft on her leg and still battling cancer we have much admiration for her to come with her African craft work and give a brief account of life in Cyanguu, her husband Bishop Ken was in Rwanda at this time never gives up supporting the clergy, staff and the people, Jill told us of his travelling in the countryside for confirmation services, Jill also mentioned the new laws coming into effect in Rwanda that all churches must be fitted with a lightning conductor and provide toilet facilities this has meant some small churches have had to close she also said that if you were looking for a nice holiday the guest house overlooking the lake is a wonderful and safe place to stay.

Next event for LBMT will be a lunch at the Brickwall Hotel Sedlescombe on Saturday 22nd Sept at 1200 noon at which the High Commissioner for Rwanda is hoping to attend tickets available from Jill Barham Tel.No. 01424 773073
